HAYNEVILLE FIBER TRANSPORT, INC.

EB Docket No. 06-36

TO: FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION, ENFORCEMENT BUREAU

In response to the Commission's Public Notice, DA 06-223 (released January 30, 2006), and revised by Public Notice, DA 06-258 (released February 2, 2006), Hayneville Fiber Transport, Inc., d/b/a Hayneville Long Distance, Camellia Long Distance and Camellia Communications ("Hayneville Fiber") states as follows:

1. Hayneville Fiber, which does business as Camellia Communications, is a small competitive local exchange carrier ("CLEC"). It provides long distance service to its CLEC customers under the name Camellia Long Distance and provides long distance services to other customers under the name Hayneville Long Distance. Hayneville Fiber provides service to approximately twenty three hundred (2,300) customers. Hayneville Fiber ensured that it was in compliance with the FCC rules contained in the subpart addressing CPNI for 2005 in that Hayneville Fiber did not use CPNI in its marketing efforts in 2005 nor did it turn over CPNI to others in 2005.
2. Because Hayneville Fiber was not using CPNI in its marketing efforts and did not turn over CPNI to others, Hayneville Fiber certifies that it complied with the Commission's rules regarding the proper use of CPNI.
3. Hayneville Fiber's interpretation of 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009, entitled "Safeguards required for use of customer proprietary network information" was that so long as CPNI was not used by telecommunications carriers, the compliance certificate requested by the Enforcement Bureau in Public Notice DA 06-223, and revised by Public Notice, DA 06-258, was not required. Specifically, that Section provides, among other things, that a carrier "must implement a system...prior to the use of CPNI..." 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009(a). For that reason, Hayneville Fiber does not have a compliance certificate for the year 2005.
4. Hayneville Fiber will immediately adopt an appropriate 2006 compliance certificate in the event that CPNI is later used.
